BABE RUTH GETS 57TH HOMER; INDIANS SCORE 3 IN FIRST

$75,000 HOLD-UP IS FOILED IN GRAND CENTRAL TERMINAL; MANY SHOTS FIRED IN BATTLE

Bandits Shoot and Beat New Haven Cashier and Guard, but Wounded Men Save Satchel Full of Money—One Robber Caught, Two Fight Way to Freedom.

James M. Lewis, sixty-seven years old, station cashier of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, carrying $75,000 receipts of Saturday and Sunday in a satchel, was hurrying from an elevator toward Room 3605 on the third floor of the Grand Central Terminal to-day when one of three men following him called out:

"Hey, there, mister!" Mr. Lewis stopped short and turned. Paul Shay of Tarrytown, a special policeman of the Terminal, who was guarding the cashier from the ticket office on the main floor to the offices of Assistant Treasurers A. S. May and S. Hall, walked two steps further before he turned.

He saw two of the three men wrestling with Mr. Lewis over the handle of the bag while a third brandished a revolver.

As he looked back he was struck in the face with a lead pipe wrapped in a newspaper. At the same time one of the men hit Mr. Lewis on the head with the butt of a revolver.

BANDIT KNOCKED DOWN BY WOUNDED GUARD. Knocked to his knees, Shay put his hand to his hip pocket for his revolver. Two shots were fired by one of the men struggling with Mr. Lewis for the bag. One of them went through Mr. Lewis's coat, grazing his side. The other hit Shay in the right shoulder. Shay lunged forward and struck one of the robbers on the head with his revolver, felling him.

The two other bandits ran for the stairs which runs down the north-east corner of the building. "Grab the money, Mr. Lewis," shouted Shay, "and get into an office. I'll kill this man if he tries to touch you."

The two men who had started for the stairs turned back and both of them opened fire at Shay as he lay on the floor, pointing his revolver at the robber he had knocked down. While Mr. Lewis floundered and scrambled into the nearest door, Shay began blazing away at the robbers, firing seven shots in quick succession. The men wheeled and went down the stairs, firing behind them wildly.

Two of their shots hit an interior heavy glass window behind which a number of men and women were working and their screams were added to the general tumult. The corridor was filled with smoke from the revolvers.

One of the two who ran away must have been struck by a bullet because spots of blood were found on the steps of the stairs all the way to the entrance at Vanderbilt Avenue and 43d Street.

The sound of the shots and the tinkle of the breaking glass, magnified by the corridor echoes, caused a general outpouring of clerks, women stenographers, railroad officials and commuters into the halls. They fairly trampled each other getting back to cover when they saw the flashes of Shay's shots. Several women dropped

RUTH GETS A HOME RUN IN FIRST INNING TO-DAY; INDIANS KNOCK OUT QUINN

GIANTS AND YANKS HAVE EACH TO GO SIX MORE GAMES

Four of the Contests Are Staged for the Polo Grounds.

The Yankees have five more games to play, while the Giants have four. Three of the Yankees contests will be staged at the Polo Grounds and but one of the Giants' games will be staged on their own field. Schedule of the remaining games follows:

YANKS. Sept. 27—St. Louis at New York. Sept. 28—Open. Sept. 29—New York at Philadelphia. Sept. 30—New York at Philadelphia. Oct. 1—Philadelphia at New York. Oct. 2—Boston at New York.

GIANTS. Sept. 27—Open. Sept. 28—Open. Sept. 29—Open. Sept. 30—Boston at New York. Oct. 1—New York at Philadelphia (doubleheader). Oct. 2—New York at Brooklyn.

ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER HELD ALSO AS A COUNTERFEITER. Accused of Making Whiskey and Stamps to Show Tax Was Paid. Joseph Drucker, 34, of No. 1205 Carroll Street, Brooklyn, was arrested by Brooklyn Probation enforcement officers who allege he was the head of a gang of bootleggers, "rectifiers" and counterfeiters. The alleged counterfeiter consisted of making false "strip stamps" indicating a tax of $2.40 a gallon had been paid to the Government for liquor.

In a garage in the rear of his home, it is charged, were found sixty-six cases of liquor, a still where the stuff was made, labels of well-known brands of whiskey and gin and strip stamps. William F. Klatte alleges he paid Drucker $140 for two cases of whiskey. John and Joseph Bianchi, grocers, were also taken into custody. All are charged with selling, rectifying and possessing liquor and counterfeiting revenue stamps.

SUGGESTS ARMY SUPPLIES FOR JOBLESS EX-SOLDIERS Senator McCormick Introduces Resolution to Provide Relief. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Senator McCormick introduced a resolution for the use of unemployed ex-service men, under a resolution introduced in the Senate to-day by Senator McCormick of Illinois.

The resolution directs the Secretary of War to loan surplus blankets, tents, coats and other surplus quartermaster supplies to organizations of ex-service men which are aiding in housing and caring for the unemployed.

GIRLS OF VIENNA IN DESPERATE FIGHT TO GET HUSBANDS

VIENNA, Sept. 26.—Four columns of advertisements daily cry out for husbands for Viennese girls. The man shortage in Central Europe is acute—there are ten women to every man, and desperate measures to secure husbands are used, even women of wealth turning to the newspapers in their trouble.

"My daughter, educated, blonde, twenty-six, modest, sympathetic, possessing 1,000,000 crowns, wants an honorable acquaintance with a man of worth. Object matrimony."

Hundreds of advertisements similar to these are printed in the newspapers to-day.

No One on Base When Babe Puts the Ball Into the Right Field for 57th Homer of Season.

Quinn Knocked Out of Box in Opening Period and Is Replaced by Hoyt—32,000 at Game.

By Isaac Shuman. POLO GROUNDS, Sept. 26.—Thirty-two thousand fans were on hand to-day to root for the Yankees in the last of the four game series with the Indians which would give New York a two game lead in the race for the American League pennant.

All good seats in the grand stands were filled by 2.30 o'clock. The cheerfulness of the day did not communicate itself to anxious fans, who, even after the Yankees came out for practice, sat lazily silent and full of what the game would bring forth.

If the Yankees lose to-day they will still lead by two points. Quinn started to pitch for the Yankees but was replaced by Hoyt in the first inning, when Cleveland scored three runs.

Babe Ruth in this period got his 57th home run of the season. No one was on base at the time. Ciolek pitched for Cleveland.

THE GAME BY INNINGS. FIRST INNING. CLEVELAND—Jamieson walked. Wambly sacrificed. McNally to Pipp. McNally fumbled. Speaker's grounder, Jamieson scoring. Smith singled to centre. Speaker going to third. Gardner forced him at second. Ward to Peck. Speaker scoring. Sewell was hit by a pitched ball. Burns singled to right, scoring Gardner. Sewell going to third. Hoyt replaced Quinn in the box for the Yankees. O'Neil was purposely walked filling the bases. Ciolek struck out.

NEW YORK RUNS TWO HITS. NEW YORK—Ward fouled out to O'Neil. Peck grounded out to Burns. Ruth knocked a home run, the ball hitting the upper cornice of the top canopy and falling into right field. Meusel dropped a single into left field. Pipp flied out to Wambly. ONE RUN, TWO HITS.

SECOND INNING. CLEVELAND—Jamieson struck out. Wambly also struck out. Hoyt made it four in a row by striking out Speaker. NO RUNS, NO HITS.

NEW YORK—Ward struck out. McNally walked. Schang grounded out. Wambly to Burns. McNally going to second. Hoyt out. Ciolek to Burns. NO RUNS, NO HITS.

THIRD INNING. CLEVELAND—Smith flied to Meusel. Gardner fanned. Sewell doubled along the right field four line. Burns flied to Miller. NO RUNS, ONE HIT.

Pastor Calls Gov. Edwards a Coward for Not Drinking. Members of the congregation of the Church of the Redeemer, Newark, were discussing freely to-day a sermon preached by the pastor, Rev. Henry R. Rose, D. D., in which he condemned Gov. Edwards of New Jersey for his antagonistic stand against the Eighteenth Amendment. He arraigned the Governor for "defying the Constitution" and declared, after referring to the fact that Gov. Edwards does not drink: "I think a man is a coward who refuses to drink what he wants other men to drink."
